COVINGTON CO-OP
TO MEET AUGUST 3

The 1972 annual membership meeting of Covington Electric Cooperative will be held Thursday night, August 3, at the Municipal Stadium in Montgomery. Co-op officials stated registration of members would begin at 5:30 p.m., with the entertainment program starting at 6:30, and the business session at 7:15 p.m.

Featured speaker for the meeting will be Fred D. Donaldson, of Enterprise, one of the South's top sales executives. Possessor of a sharp wit and rib-tickling sense of humor, Donaldson is a graduate of Auburn University and Jones Law School. He is active in a number of civic, religious and educational functions, and has won national sales awards in his business activities.

Entertainment at the meeting will be provided by the Thrasher Brothers Quartet, of Birmingham, from the "American Sings" television program. This group is returning off a crowd pleasing performance at the 1971 meeting.

Some 30 electrical appliances including a 23" color television set, electric range and vacuum cleaner -- will be awarded as attendance prizes. In addition, each co-op member registering will receive a free gift.

During the business session, Covington Electric members will receive reports on operations of the Cooperative, and elect two members to three-year terms on the Board of Trustees.

Concession stands will be open for the convenience of those attending the meeting. Covington Electric serves more than 12,600 consumers in Covington, Crenshaw, Coffee, Dale and Geneva counties.

226 Drop-Outs Now

Completing H S

Neil R. Smart, Director of the Montgomery Veterans Administration Regional Office, said that in Alabama during April, about 226 were completing high school under the G. I. Bill, and swelling the ranks of those who have taken advantage of a five-year-old VA program that pays them monthly allowance while attending schools below the college level.

For these veterans this means enrollment in remedial or refresher courses to enable them to earn elementary or high school diplomas or otherwise qualify for higher education. Thus these veterans are able to save their full entitlement for higher education later on.

Veterans who are having trouble with their studies may receive special tutorial help which VA will pay for. So far, about 900 educationally disadvantaged Alabama veterans have taken advantage of "catch-up" schooling or training since it became available in 1967.

However, Smart pointed out that this figure does not include all assistance provided. For example, many educationally disadvantaged veterans elect to enter on-job training programs or attend vocational and trade schools.

For further information contact the nearest VA office or your local veterans service organization representative.

Scout-A-Rama To Be Held In Elba August 5

Scouts from Elba will join hundreds of Boy Scouts from dozens of communities in this area for a giant "Scout-A-Rama" to be held Saturday, August 5 in the Elba, Alabama Armory.

Everything from frying bacon in a paper bag to giant pole scaffolds will be on display for the thousands of visitors expected to attend the event.

To give the public an opportunity to see scouting first hand the armory will be partitioned off into many sections with each section containing some interesting scouting activity.

At a past Scout-A-Rama held in Opp, the displays overflowed the armory and extended outside where an Andalusia troop had erected an elaborate swinging bridge. Tickets for the event will be on sale at the Armory for 75¢. Money derived from the tickets will go toward purchasing canoes and trailers to be kept in this district.

The public is invited to attend and see Boy Scouting in action.

Cook Is Promoting Elba With Sales
Cook Chevrolet has launched a local sales promotion that is also a promotion of Elba. They are presently giving a $25 Gift Certificate with each new car or truck sold. The certificate must be redeemed with a merchant in the City of Elba and can be used to buy anything sold in Elba or to pay on an existing charge account.

Any merchant cashing one of the gift certificate needs only to endorse it and he will be paid his twenty-five dollars immediately by Cook Chevrolet.

Voting is a privilege as well as a right that should be exercised by every eligible citizen. Those who fail to vote have little ground for criticizing the policies and laws under which they must live.

Mayor Jack Brunson and Mr. D. M. English, Chairman of the Elba Housing Authority, have been notified by the Department of Housing and Urban Development that 50 additional low rental apartment units have been approved for Elba.

The Housing Authority presently has 60 rentals, however, the applications for these units greatly exceed the units available. According to Mr. English they have approximately 100 applications on the waiting list at all times.

In December of 1969, the Housing Authority made applications for some additional rental units. To receive favorable consideration for the application the City had to adopt a new Comprehensive Development Plan which involved the adoption and enforcement of new ordinances on Zoning and Housing. This Plan was completed and adopted in May 1971.

Mr. English states that a site for the new units has not been selected at this time, however, he anticipates that construction will be started within 3 or 4 months.

Recreation Center Open At Night

The City Recreation Center located at the American Legion Building on the Troy Highway is open each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Charles Kennett, director, says the center opens at 7 p.m. and provides pool tables, ping pong, pin ball, and arcade and a concession stand.

Senator John Sparkman U. S. Senate Facing Up To Needs Of Older Americans

As a result of recommendations stemming from the White House Conference on Aging, which was held in Washington, 1971, a vast number of bills have been introduced in the United States dealing with serious problems facing older Americans.

Earlier this year, the Senate passed unanimously Senate Resolution 251 giving the Senate Special Committee on Aging new authority to continue its inquiry and evaluation into issues of direct importance to older Americans whose number is 20 million, or about one-tenth of the nation's total population.

Upwards of 45 to 50 million Americans will reach their 65th birthdays before the end of this century just 28 years from now. Medical care patterns must and will change because more people are living longer lives, and many new skills will be needed to design or manage housing, to devise and operate new services, and to meet the later years of life more satisfying for older Americans.

This calls for more information on research related to aging fields which up to now have been woefully neglected.

Closely related to the need for research is the long-range demand for more trained personnel to serve the elderly.

The Senate Special Committee on Aging has been told that although increasing numbers of new programs and services are being made available

Senator Sparkman Answers Question From Readers

Dear Senator Sparkman: I am the owner of a business in Alabama and understand that the U. S. Government is encouraging the exportation of American-made products, so as to increase our share of the world market, with the ultimate aim of creating more jobs here at home. Can you tell me something about this program? A. M., Auburn Sparkman: The Revenue Act of 1971 included a provision to stimulate United States industry to achieve increased efficiency in production for the world markets, and the simultaneous increase in domestic employment. These goals are to be achieved by providing tax advantages to American exporters, comparable to those advantages afforded by many foreign governments to their exporters, to that they may remain competitive in the world market.

The law is also a stimulant which induces more American firms to think about exporting their goods. The effect of all this is that as American firms begin to produce more for export, they begin to need and therefore create jobs. For more information on the provisions of this law, as well as general information for persons wishing to enter into the export business, you may obtain a copy of the "Handbook for Exporters" by sending 40 cents to the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

THE MONTGOMERY ADVERTISER

At the risk of offending some hypersensitive groups, we nominate Peter Lisagor of the Chicago Daily News for producing the wildest load paragraph of the convention week.

Early Thursday, he wrote: "To satisfy the requirements for a vice presidential candidate, Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern must find a black Jew who has turned Catholic, lives in the South, belongs to the United Steelworkers' Union, and is engaged to Gloria Steinem."

Lisagor's formula was composed at a time when speculation was rife over whom McGovern would choose and who would accept.

That the Veep nominee did not meet Lisagor's full specifications was hardly the writer's fault.

He was just trying to help.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

I am 100% in favor of the recent crack down on airplane hijackers. Long ago folks in Elba, Alabama, were convinced that if those who tried to collect ransom money and take over a plane for their own private use were very unannouncedly shot, the magic appeal to thrill seekers would fast disappear. Unfortunately, as officials feared, sometimes the innocent will suffer but sooner or later a plane load of innocent will suffer if these nuts are not disillusioned in a way even they understand.

By the time you are reading this "ve editor" will be happily (?) on his way to a family excursion to Disney World in Florida. This trip has been planned for many months but as the time draws near, I find myself looking forward to the day it is over. It seems that the more I try to catch up on my work in order to make the trip, the more work I get on my desk that must be done RIGHT NOW! We will just have to turn our back and walk out and hope the world does not come to an end because of our actions.

4-H Clubs in Elba are in the need of funds. There are many plans for the ten separate clubs in the Elba Middle School. All and two leaders are needed for each club. They only meet once a month for an hour, therefore, taking very little of an adult's time. Those willing to help should contact someone in the county agents office. (Mrs. James Rhoades of Elba works there.)

There is an article on the front page of this week's Elba Clipper announcing the approval of some rent houses for Elba. These units have been needed for many years and will be a welcome relief to those seeking this type housing. With the announcement coming just before our city elections, many "ants" will say it was politics

Newspapers Build Brick Walls
Robert Matteson, for more than 30 years a researcher for Standard Oil Company of California, has developed a way to make bricks from old newspapers at the rate of about 72 pages a brick. Shredded newspapers are pulped, and sodium silicate, gypsum and a kind of cement called pozzolan are added. The resulting mash is pressed into bricks under pressure. Each brick weighs two pounds and costs from two to four cents. Production time is about two minutes per brick, plus a week's drying.

COST CUTTING IS CRITICAL NEED
There are numerous proposals being presented to Congress for "reforming" the federal tax system. Recently, Ways and Means Committee Chairman Rep. Wilbur Mills and Sen. Mike Mansfield proposed to set termination dates for fifty-four provisions of the Internal Revenue Code to ensure review of all so-called tax preferences.

"People hate to see a poor loser or a rich winner and sometimes both." — John H. Gilgour, Tri-County (Mo.) News.

"Respect the common things. They are common because they survive." — Mrs. Geo. Marcus, Lutz (Fla.) Land O' Lakes Party Line.

"All the political talk about a new source of revenue simply means tapping the same old taxpayer in a brand new place."

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Miss Ann Crew of Rockford, Alabama, and Miss Courtney, of Elba, were the hosts for a supper party on Saturday evening when Mrs. Robert Cannon entertained at her home on Redwood Hill Road.

Windham Is Attending ROTC Summer Camp

Cadet Timothy D. Windham, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace D. Windham, Rt. 4, Elba, Ala., is receiving practical work in military leadership at the Army Reserve Officers Training Corps Advanced Summer Camp at Ft. Bragg, N. C.

Cadet Windham, a student at Auburn University, is one of more than 10,000 students attending Army ROTC at six installations in the U. S.

The six-week ROTC Advanced Camp provides an opportunity for cadets to develop leadership capabilities in a field training environment. The instruction supplements theories and concepts which cadets learned in the classroom on campus.

Cadets normally attend the training between their junior and senior years. This enables them to better comprehend the final year of classroom work and to function as cadet leaders on campus.

Cadet Windham is a 1968 graduate of New Brockton High School.

Newspaper Execs Off To Meeting

It will be mostly playtime for member's of Alabama's newspaper fraternity this week. The roar of the presses and the tension of deadlines will be put aside and in their place will be substituted fun, relaxation and a bit of hobnobbing with all things Mickey Mouse.

Some 246 of the State's editors and publishers, their families and guests will meet July 20-23 at Walt Disney World in Lake Buena Vista, Florida. They will be attending the annual convention of the Alabama Press Association.

After meeting gets underway Thursday with a cocktail by the Contemporary Resort Hotel Olympic swimming pool. And from there activities don't slow down until adjournment Sunday, July 23.

There will be business sessions, excursions for the youngsters and banquets for the adults.

"All in all," Hardin says, "it will be another occasion for good fellowship among Alabama's top newspaper executives — and that's always very pleasant."

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD RELEASES FINAL ZONE LINES FOR 1972-73

The Coffee County Board of Education, in agreement with the Elba Board, the Enterprise Board and the six county school Principals, passed a resolution to zone Coffee County or to set up boundary lines for all schools for the 1972-73 school year. The things listed below are included in the resolution.

1. Under the laws of Alabama the Coffee County Board of Education has the authority to set up school attendance areas within Coffee County and to require children to attend a school located therein.

2. The Coffee County Board of Education does not object to your children attending Elba City Schools or the Enterprise City Schools, provided the principals will enroll them.

3. The courts have held that the laws of Alabama do not require one school system to transport children into another school system.

4. Coffee County will continue to operate buses and will transport children into Elba and Enterprise, but only within the zoned area as outlined in the Elba Clipper, The Enterpriser and the Daily Ledger, as shown on the map provided them.

5. Any child living outside the boundary lines for Elba and Enterprise may furnish his own transportation to catch a bus and if the Principal will enroll you.

6. All buses will stay within their boundary as set up by the three boards, the Superintendent and Principals. There will not be a bus leaving Elba for Zion Chapel.

7. Transportation will be furnished all children, but not to a school of your choice. You may attend any school if you furnish your own transportation to catch a bus and if the Principal will enroll you.

8. Each of the 6 County Schools have boundary lines, too. These were established by the Board, the Superintendent and Principals.

9. There will not be any overlapping of buses except along certain boundary lines between schools and this will be for a very short distance.

10. A child may catch either bus on the boundary line or where there are two buses.

NOTE VERY CAREFULLY!!! In the 3 county Junior High Schools, Goodman, Mt. Pleasant and New Hope, all children in grades 1-12 living within the zoned area of each school will ride a bus to the Junior High School and students in grades 10, 11 and 12 will catch a non-stop bus to a High School.

A bus will leave Goodman and go to New Brockton. A bus will leave Mt. Pleasant and go to Enterprise. A bus will leave New Hope and go to Zion Chapel.

All children on bus routes will ride the same bus (no all black and all white) unless a bus becomes loaded with only one group before they get a child of another race.

11. Anyone desiring further information on bus routing, please contact the superintendent's office or the Principal of the immediate school. Any child missed the first day of school contact the Principal, the bus driver or the Superintendent's office.

12. All children on bus routes will ride the same bus (no all black and all white) unless a bus becomes loaded with only one group before they get a child of another race.

Roy Farris Visits Smokey Mountains

Roy C. Farris of 1019 Hickman Ave., Elba recently visited the Smokey Mountains, near Great Smoky Mountains National Park, to view the many natural formations in the area.

Forbidden Caverns, a short, pleasant, scenic drive from Gatlinburg and Seville, Tenn., was opened in 1967 after two years of excavating and construction work.

The attraction is approved by the National Caves Association and features some of the most spectacular formations in America, all illuminated by an extensive theatrical lighting system.

Stereophonic sound presentation in the grottoes recreate the days when the prehistoric Cherokee, Woodland Indians inhabited the cave and surrounding valley. Indian legend refers to the cavern as "The place that is forbidden."

Some of the main points of interest are: "Eternal Falls," a natural chimney formation; "The Sacred Stream," a crystal clear stream that winds through the caverns; "The Grotto of the Dead" with reflection pools and stereo sound; "Council Chamber of the Elders" where Indian artifacts have been found; "Grotto of the Evil Spirits" where huge stalagmites stand in semi-circle around a small lake; and "The Wall of Onyx," a gigantic formation of solid cave onyx.

A coffee shop, large craft shop with an extensive Indian and gun museum has been added and an ancient grist mill with its water wheel has been restored near the cave.

OPPORTUNITIES
A lot of times businessmen and folks not directly related with agriculture can cause a County Agent to stop and think. I was reminded of this the other day when Dr. Dwight Bond, Manager of Conagra (Poultry Processing Plant) asked me a question about corn. He wanted to know how much the yield of corn could be increased in Coffee County and surrounding counties. If all the know-how was put into practice, immediately thought of a few things that are holding us back in corn production: (1)

(2) Failure to develop a high fertility in our soils. Probably too many folks try to get by on minimum amounts of fertilizer. (3) We could increase the waterholding capacity of our soils by using poultry and stable manure and suitable cover crops.

LIME
In recent years I have seen a lot of evidence of low soil pH. PH is a scale used to indicate soil acidity. Just about every time a farmer tells me that his corn or soybeans are not growing as well as they should, I am pretty well convinced that it needs lime badly.

I talked with Dr. Walter Soell in Auburn this week. He said that in over 95 percent of the cases, low soil pH is responsible for poor growth of corn and winter grazing crops. If the soil pH goes down (as soil becomes more acid), magnesium and aluminum become more soluble in the soil. At high levels they destroy root growth. Lime usually corrects low soil pH, and it will correct it for several years.

FALL AND WINTER GRAZING
We have had a tremendous increase in acreage of winter grazing in Coffee County. I think much of this is due to the good grazing and cover that our farmers get from rye. Rye has certainly been a boom to a lot of livestock producers. Some farmers were by the office this week sending in samples of rye to the Seed Testing Laboratory to get germination reports. This reminded me that planting time for rye and other winter grazing crops is approaching.

A lot of folks ask about how much nitrogen to use on winter rye. In some recent tests at the Lower Coastal Plains Station, it was found that 3,000 and 4,000 pounds of nitrogen per acre brought 3,000 and 4,000 pounds of matter per acre, respectively. The 200 pound per acre rate of nitrogen brought almost twice as much early grazing as the 100 pounds per acre.

PEANUTS
Peanuts were a $6 million crop last year. This is such a critical time for peanuts. We need rain badly to keep the peanuts growing and pegging. Peanuts do not produce at their maximum when they make for a few days and are stopped by dry weather. We need rain now.

I talked to some farmers in the past few days and everyone agrees that they are doing the best job they are in controlling leafspot disease. We recommend that peanuts be sprayed or dusted, preferably sprayed, every 14 days. I would keep on this schedule even though we are having some dry weather, which I hope is temporary. If we can get some rainfall in the next few weeks, we have an excellent opportunity to make another good crop. We haven't had any rain fall to speak of in the last two weeks. Surely, some rain in the way soon.

COLD ENOUGH?
Would you like to know how to determine the temperature of your refrigerator - freezer without the use of a thermometer? A good rule of thumb is to check milk and ice cream. These two foods are your thermometer when it comes to showing whether controls are properly set.

When milk stored inside the refrigerator is a good, cold drink, the refrigerator section will be about 36 degrees to 38 degrees. When the freezer keeps ice cream very firm, the freezer will be at approximately the proper 0 degrees.

WASHING KNITS
Knits are sweeping the country and their future looks even brighter. I'm sure every family has a supply of knits. Often knits will wrinkle and even what has happened, I'd like to suggest time steps in laundering - man-made fiber knitted garments.

Half or quarter the chicken for outdoor broiling. Brush the chicken with your favorite basting sauce and broil, turning occasionally. It takes from one to 1 1/2 hours to cook. Baste the chicken occasionally. And, during the last 30 minutes baste with barbecue sauce.

Whole chickens can be cooked on a rotisserie that turns the birds slowly on a spit. If properly balanced, the chicken should rotate evenly. But be sure the chicken doesn't slip as the spit turns.

More than one bird can be roasted on a rotisserie at a time if the spit is long enough. But, mount the birds in opposite directions to maintain good balance.

Charcoal is good fuel for outdoor cooking, but it makes a hot fire. So, be sure the broiler racks are higher -- six to eight inches -- from the coals for a low even heat. If poultry gets too hot, raise the grill away from the heat. Chicken tastes best when broiled over hot coals, not in flame or smoke.

GREASE SPOTS
Has a grease spot gotten on a favorite garment of yours? If so, you might try removing it with toothpaste. Dab the toothpaste on the spot, let it dry and wash it off. A stain burn stain may need extra help. You may need to rub the spot with a small brush.

SPORTS

Some writers call him a squat, swarthy Mexican. Others say he is flamboyant. Charitable has also been used to describe Lee Trevino, who successfully defended his British Open title at Muirfield, Scotland last week. But whatever adjective we used to describe Super Mex, let's also remember him as one of the greatest shotmakers of all time in the game of golf. This man was completely erased from contention on the seventeenth hole the final day when he was lying four in the high fringe of the green on a par-five hole. His playing partner Tony Jacklin was tied with him and putting from fifteen feet for a four. Now you explain to me how, fifteen minutes later, Trevino was receiving congratulations from the Scots, $4,000 in prize money, and his second British Open title.

But that's the way Lee's whole life has been. One minute he is at rock-bottom, and then Wham, he's the world's greatest. One minute in 1968 he was a $35-a-week assistant pro at a driving range, the next he was the 1968 U.S. Open Champion. One day about a month ago he was in El Paso, Texas hospital. Two days later he was scaring Jack Nicklaus in Pebble Beach, contending for his third Open. One minute he is quipping about sinking the chip shot, on seventeen at Muirfield (one of four during the tournament) and telling that he is "the great chopper in the world" and the next minute he is dead serious. He then tells the Britons that he is proud to be their champion again, and he will see them next year.

Now, as far as sympathy for Jack Nicklaus, we should have none at all. Does a man who has won more major championships than any golfer who ever played (14), more prize money than anyone in the game, and the respect of all his opponents, need sympathy? Sure Jack was shooting for a sweep of all four major championships in one year, a feat never before accomplished. But the fact is he played as well as he could, and the odds are against him in the first place. The opinion here is that Nicklaus is golf's overpowering performer, and he doesn't need the Grand Slam to prove it. Case dismissed.

New construction methods initiated by industry using steel panels make it possible to cut the time it takes to construct a building. The new product, developed by Keene Corporation's metal construction products division of Parkersburg, W. Va., provides panels in two-story sections with the necessary openings for doors, windows, air conditioning, heating, and ventilation.

The panels are trucked directly to the job site, ready for erection. This eliminates the time-consuming job of welding individual steel members to the correct configurations at the site.

The basic panel weighs only 210 lbs. and can be lifted easily by only three men, an aid in speeding construction. A truckload of 40 panels can be unloaded by three men in approximately 45 minutes.

Apartments being built in Coram, N.Y., for example, will be ready for occupancy 60-90 days earlier than they would have been if more conventional construction methods had been used, according to the company. This was because more units could be closed in during the winter.

REMANENTS' PLENTY

During the 4 years this administration did not fully accomplish all of its goals. However, considerable progress was made in many areas including:

- * IMPROVED WATER SYSTEM
- * ADDITIONAL JOBS
- * STREET LIGHTING * UP-GRADED ELECTRICAL SYSTEM
- * ANNOUNCED NEW LOW RENTAL HOUSING
- * NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS AND HOSPITAL EXPANSION
- * STREET IMPROVEMENTS * RECREATION
- * ESTABLISHED DOG POUND

I earnestly solicit your vote and support for re-election to the office of Mayor. In return I pledge to you my continued efforts to make Elba a more progressive city and a community in which to live, work and play.

Thank you,

Miss Donaldson Honored Recently

Miss Dianne Donaldson-bridal-ette of Ronnie H. Donaldson, was honored with a miscellaneous shower on Saturday, July 8, at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Lewis. Serving with Mrs. Lewis as hostesses were Mrs. Dewey Coleman, Mrs. Clyde Collier, Mrs. Randolph Crosby and Mrs. J. C. Mack.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Lewis who presented them to the receiving line consisting of Miss Donaldson, her mother, Mrs. Ed Donaldson, the groom's mother, Mrs. Lewie Donaldson, and the groom's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Hubert Donaldson. White carnation corsages, gifts of the hostesses were worn by Mrs. Lewis and members of the receiving line. Guests registered in the bride's book with a quill at a round pedestal table, presided over by Mrs. Jimmy Ramsey.

The brides colors were used to adorn the punch table which was draped with pink satin and overlaid with white lace. The silver punch bowl, surrounded with ivy interspersed with pink flowers, was placed at one end of the table and balanced at the other end by a candelabra holding burning white tapers. Ribbon sandwiches, petite four party mints and nuts were served from silver appointments. Misses Sharon Collier, Fran English, and Cindy Lewis assisted by Mrs. Collier and Mrs. Crosby, presided over the punch table.

A repertoire of music was provided by Miss Cindy Crosby at the piano as the guests were directed through the gift rooms by Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Mack, and Mrs. Ray Helms.

High Winds Damage Country Club

Monday afternoon of this week the Northwest section of Elba was hit with either a small tornado or some very strong winds causing considerable damage to the area.

A number of trees were blown down on Highland Drive and a large oak tree was split in the yard of Dr. Philip Hamn. Dr. James Clay found his pump house in the nearby woods.

Probably the worst damage was at the Elba Country Club where these pictures were taken. The entire over the back patio was torn loose, the huge brick columns at the entrance were uprooted and shattered along with electric and telephone lines. Although manager Ferrell Burk's TV antenna and storage house were destroyed.

Dorsey Reports

First Half Earnings

The Dorsey Corporation (NYSE), a leading manufacturer of glass and plastic containers and cargo trailers, today reported sales and earnings for the second quarter and six months ended June 30, 1972.

Net sales in the second quarter rose to $30,792,000 from $25,521,000 a year ago. Net earnings in the latest three months totaled $1,452,000, or $48 per share on a fully diluted basis compared with $1,369,000 or $47 per share in 1971.

In commenting on the results, Herbert L. Oakes, president, noted that all operating divisions contributed to the 28 per cent increase in six months sales. "From a profit standpoint," he said, "earnings of our plastic container and cargo trailer divisions showed increases over the previous year. We continued to experience some production problems in our glass container operation, but we feel that the corrective steps which have been taken, in addition to recently improved prices, will produce higher earnings for this division in the second half of the year."

Dorsey's new glass container plant in Keyser, W. Va., commenced operation in early July, as did a new plastic container plant near Memphis. With additional new plastic container plants scheduled to be built in Miami, Atlanta and New Orleans, Dorsey will have, by early 1973, approximately two-thirds more plant area devoted to plastic container production.

"I am pleased that improved and expanded facilities for our servicemen at Fort Rucker have been authorized in the bill passed by the House," Representative Andrews said, following the 871-17 vote of approval given the bill.

"Congress continues its support of the growth of this vital Army installation," she said.

Third District Rep. Elizabeth Andrews praised Thursday's House passage of the Military Construction Authorization for FY 1973, containing $3,232,000 for Fort Rucker.

The bill authorizes the construction of a field house and an enlisted men's service club, as well as $823,000 for modernization of barracks on the post.

PEANUT PRODUCERS TO MEET

Better harvesting methods and proper drying techniques to improve peanut profit will be the major topics of discussion when about 350 peanut producers meet at the Alabama Peanut Association meeting in Dothan, August 3, says Tom Casaday, Coffee County Extension Chairman. They will be attending the Alabama Peanut Harvesting and Drying Clinic to be held in the Houston County Farm Center at 9:30 a.m.

Casaday says the purpose of the harvesting and drying clinic is to give peanut producers and handlers information on maintaining the quality of peanuts by doing a better job of harvesting and drying their crop. The theme of the program is "Put more profit in your pocket."

During the five sessions, which will begin at 8:00 a.m. Monday, August 7, 1972, the students will receive instructions on how to improve listening skills, how to take notes, how to use the library, and how to improve reading skills.

The program will begin with a discussion on disease and insect control by Dean Bond, Extension Peanut Specialist at Auburn University.
